x chair and hybrid

Designed and manufactured in Australia, this innovative office chair makes intelligent use of new materials and technology. It's elegant, transparent form with woven mesh moulds itself to your body shape and provides superior support and comfort. The exclusive, patented Gregory dual density seating system is featured in both the X Chair full mesh and Hybrid upholstered seat versions.

Height adjustable backrest and advanced synchronised action is designed to work with you to follow the body's natural movement and can be locked in multiple positions. Tension control is easily adjusted to suit the user's height and weight.

options

- X Chair mesh seat & back or Hybrid upholstered seat with mesh back
- Black powder coated back frame
- Soft tyre or friction brake castors
- Seat slide on Hybrid
- Glides where no movement is required
- T-arms or D-arms on Hybrid
- Choice of fabric on Hybrid

ergonomic to the core

Manufactured in Australia, Gregory chairs are recognised by ergonomists, the medical and OH&S professionals as providing a superior seating solution for the modern office and an extremely high level of comfort.

In 1987, after extensive research into the consequences of poor seating, physiotherapist & company founder, Peter Gregory developed the unique dual density posture support seating system which discourages the pelvis from sliding forward. The spine is held and maintained in a healthy, upright 'S' curve of good posture which also creates less stress on the arms, shoulders & neck throughout the day. The outcome is reduced fatigue, headaches & backaches; increased concentration, better performance and productivity and better well-being.
